

Homers Trip to Washington, DC
Marine Barracks Twilight Parade, the Iwo Jima Memorial, and the American History Museum
August 2006

Iwo Jima Memorial
the Marines' most sacred monument.

Jim Dodd, Jerry, unknown, & Marty at Memorial

George, Carl, Marty, Jerry, Jim Dodd, Phil, and Bob

Entrance to the Marine Barracks-
The Commandant's home is the Oldest building in D.C. – 1801

Barracks within the Marine Barracks

Below: The Homers with 'front-row' seats!
And Marines marching from their Barracks

The white building in back is the Commandant's Home – with the Parade Grounds in front

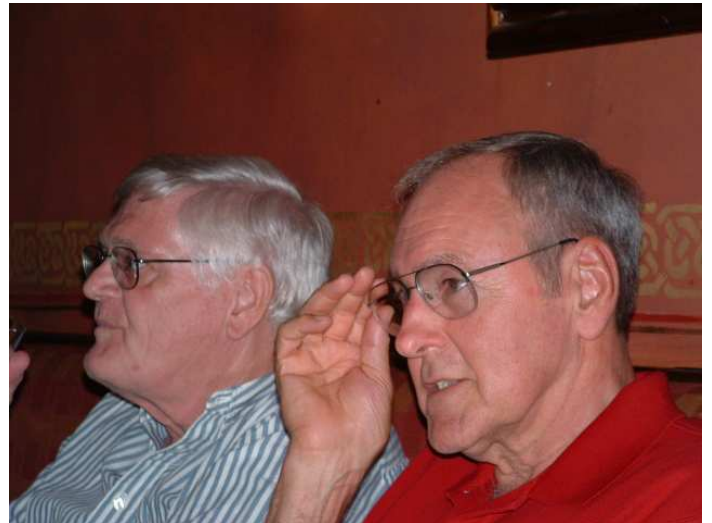

Various Homers outside of the Barracks – waiting for Marine escort to their seats

Dinner in a D.C. pub before the Twilight Parade – Jim Dodd,
Jerry, Phil, Carl, & Marty

George & Marty in the pub

Marty – pondering his beer order